

PLANNING YOUR TIMELINE

Olivia Britt Photography

SO, YOU'RE READY TO PLAN YOUR TIMELINE?

Congratulations! While planning a wedding can feel really overwhelming, especially when you're just getting started, using resources will help. Take a deep breath and approach things step by step. Once you start, things will feel much more manageable (and you'll feel like the boss you are!).

IN THIS RESOURCE, YOU'LL FIND...

- Page 3: Options for photography + special moments to incorporate into your big day to make it your own.
- Pages 4-5: A sample timeline that can be tweaked and tailored to your own vision.
- Page 6-8: Worksheets to start organizing your ideas.

LET'S GET STARTED!

WHAT ARE MY OPTIONS?

I'm SO glad you asked! There are plenty of decisions to be made for the details of your big day, so let's keep photography simple. Below is a sample list of options you have for photography + the moments that will make it special. Each of these is important to consider when deciding on your timeline:

Rehearsal Dinner Coverage

Second Shooter

Getting Ready Photos

First Look

(with the couple, dad, or even a pet!)

Sunset/Special Couple's Shoot

(Usually during dinner)

Grand Entrance/Exit

Dance Floor/Group Photos
